Concord, N. H. February 8, 1915.

To the Selectmen:

We suggest that you cause the following extract from the report of the Tax Commission for 1914 to be printed in your town report this spring. It may tend to economy in town appropriations.

Very truly

STATE TAX COMMISSION,

By W. B. Fellows, Secretary.

REPORT STATE TAX COMMISSION 1914.

Increase in Public Expenditures.

No power has constituted the members of the tax commission guardians of the public in respect to expenditures for the support of government, and they have no disposition to assume that role. Nevertheless, "economy being a most essential virtue in all states," and it being "the duty of legislatures and magistrates * * * to countenance and inculcate the principles of * * * economy," all as set forth in the constitution of this state, the commissioners believe themselves to be amply justified in urging, as they have so often urged before, the importance of this subject upon the voters of the state. The public revenue, state and municipal, is the voters' business and they are responsible, directly or indirectly, for every extravagance affecting it from the inception to the termination of the fund.

Every compulsory contribution levied by public authority upon people or property is in the broad sense of the term a tax, nor is it made less obnoxious or burdensome if called a fee or a fine. In the figures that follow therefore, all fees, fines, and other exactions, if any, are included with the taxes upon polls and estates. To illustrate the comparative importance of the two classes, it may be said that the taxes upon polls and estates represent about 95 per cent. and all other income about 5 per cent. of the total revenue of the state, and of the counties, cities, towns, districts and precincts therein.

Taxes as defined above have increased by leaps and bounds in recent years. In 1903 the sum of all the taxes assessed by and within the state of New Hampshire was \$5,373,420.22; in 1913 it was \$8,765,039.07, an increase of \$3,391,618.85, or 63 per cent., in ten years. But these figures do not adequately represent the velocity the upward movement has now attained. To show that it is necessary to divide the ten-year period: The levy in 1908 was \$924,388.79, or 17 per cent greater than in 1903, while that in 1913 was \$2,467,230.06, or 39 per cent greater than in 1908. By so much did the advance in the last half of said period exceed that in the first half. These figures will be the more alarming if it is remembered that while taxes already sufficiently heavy were advancing 63 per cent, the population of the state increased only about $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, and while the one was advancing 39 per cent, the other increased only about $2\frac{1}{4}$ per cent.

It is instructive to study the subject from another angle. In the ten years from 1904 to 1914, both inclusive, the annual increase in all taxes defined and limited as above was as follows:

1904	$ 34,459 91
.. 1905	286,590 14
1906	115,468 39
1907	411,257 46
1908	76,612 89
1909	539,995 97
1910	787,565 31
1911	215,848 50
1912	296,216 85
1913	627,603 43

The average yearly increase for the whole period was $336,561.85. The upward trend is more plainly shown, however, by dividing, as before, the ten-year period in the middle and considering the halves separately. For the first five years the average annual increase was $184,877.76; for the last five years it was $493,446.01. It is surely pertinent to consider how long the little state of New Hampshire, almost stationary in wealth, can sustain a tax already burdensome and increasing at the rate of practically half a million dollars a year without crippling her industries and impoverishing her people. Plainly it is a condition not calculated to attract capital from without the state or to encourage business within the same.

From the per capita standpoint the situation is not less disturbing. In 1903 there were assessed $12.88 in taxes for each man woman and child in the state. Five years later there were assessed $14.75 for each individual, and in five years more $20.09. If in 1913 taxes had been equally distributed among all the people it would have meant a burden of $100 for each family of five members. Though in reality there was little such equality in the assessment there was much in the payment. The fact is that those who occupy, use or consume property, no matter who owns it, are those who in the last analysis pay most, if not all, of the taxes thereon. If the wage earner or the man of limited means understood he was in reality paying something like $100 a year in state and municipal and half as much more in federal taxes for the government of himself, his wife and three children his influence and his vote would more frequently make for economy in appropriations and expenditures than heretofore.

No statistics for the year 1914 appear in the above paragraphs for the reason that they are not yet at hand except in part.

UNION DISTRICT

Report of Superintendent of Schools

To the School Board of Union School District:

I submit herein my fifth annual report as superintendent of schools, it being the seventh in the series of such reports.

We have been fortunate again in having few changes in the teaching force. Mr. Vining, after a service of three years as principal, decided upon further study, and his resignation at the close of the year was accepted with regret. Mr. James A. Whipple was elected to fill the position, but was unable to assume his duties until six weeks after the opening of the fall term. This difficulty was overcome through the assistance of Mr. Vining, who kindly consented to postpone his studies, and carried on the work as principal until the arrival of Mr. Whipple.

Miss Currier, teacher of the second grade and Miss Stoddard, general assistant, resigned in June to accept positions in Franklin and Manchester, where they could live at home. Miss Ethel M. Colby was elected teacher of the second grade. In place of the general assistant it was decided to elect a teacher of art and manual training, who should give any time not needed for these studies to assisting over large classes or backward pupils. This arrangement has proved very satisfactory. The principal is no longer obliged to leave his room to the assistant while teaching manual training, and the work in art becomes of much more value when guided by a competent supervisor. Miss Helen A. Watson has filled the position for the year. We have continued the practice, begun last year of giving Seminary seniors who are preparing to teach an opportunity of assisting backward pupils, and Miss Lena J. Phair has been employed regularly since September.

The membership of the school has remained at about the same figure as for several years past, the average membership being a little over three hundred. Three grades, the first, second and fifth, have numbered nearly fifty each.

A matter of importance to the tax payers of the district is the fact that the district no longer receives the rebate for high school tuition from the state. This aid is dependent upon the tax rate for school purposes for the year and the average general tax rate for the past five years. The increased valuation and consequent lower tax rate of Tilton has taken the town outside the terms of the statute granting such aid. The bill of over two thousand dollars for high school tuition will now be borne by the district alone.

The evening school has been taught by Mr. Whipple and Miss Shaw. Sessions have been held upon Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. The attendance has been much larger than last year, though not as large as two years ago. We have had an enrollment of twenty-four, with an average attendance of fifteen. In addition to these regular members, some twenty pupils from the day school, with average attendance of fourteen, have come in for special help in their studies. This is a development of evening school work not foreseen at the time of its organization. There is a demand, on the part of those attending, for a term longer than the ten weeks originally planned, and I think it will be possible, with the appropriation made by the school meeting, to continue for a total term of fifteen weeks.

The provisions of the medical inspection act, adopted by the school meeting a year ago, have been carried out by the election of Dr. Huckins as school physician. He has, in accordance with the terms of the act, made an examination of each pupil, and has reported to parents defects needing correction. He has also been the constant adviser regarding all matters of hygiene, and especially regarding action to be taken to avoid contagious diseases.

The school was closed for the week Oct. 16-23, after the occurrence of a case of diphtheria, to guard against further spread of the disease. The case had a sad ending in the death of Doris Simpson, of the seventh grade, but no further cases developed.

The school is in excellent condition. We have a strong teaching corps, co-operating harmoniously, and the work has been developed to a high degree of efficiency.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES A. BRECK,

Superintendent of Schools

Owing to some misunderstanding, taxes were not assessed by the Selectmen this year, to cover two of the regular standing appropriations, viz: $400.00 for Books and Supplies, and $1,500.00 for High School Tuition. We have received no High School money from the State this year, and also about $400.00 "State Aid" through the town of Northfield failed to come. The above explanation will account for the cash balance of $1,258 35 at the beginning of the year, shrinking to a deficit of $989.18 at this time.

Report of the School Board of the Town School District of Northfield

Another year has passed and it becomes the duty of the school board, in the absence of a superintendent, to submit the annual report.

A comfortable little school house has been erected at Oak Hill to replace the one destroyed by fire, January 6, 1914.

Four schools have been open during the year, and with one exception the last year's teachers have been retained, Miss Wyatt leaving to accept a position in the graded schools of Belmont.

Our teachers are young, but they are all faithful and for the most part painstaking and energetic, and have the happy faculty of imparting knowledge, keeping order and at the same time gaining and holding the love and respect of the children and also the parents.

We admit that our schools are not all that we could wish. They have not yet attained the standard of excellence which we hope they may. The number of children in each school is so very small, there cannot be much competition, nor can we expect much enthusiasm. Still we contend that they are all little hives of industry, and that when the pupils are responsive, studious and regular in attendance, gratifying results have been obtained. Eight grade pupils have been awarded certificates of attainment, admitting them to high school or seminary at as early an age as have those from the graded.

At Mr. Gorrell's suggestion the New Testament has been brought back into the schools, and the old custom of reading a chapter or less each morning has been revived. This gives another reading lesson and the children are becoming more familiar with the Book of Life.

Music is taught to some extent. We would recommend having a music teacher visit each school once in two weeks and give a vocal lesson. This is being done in Canterbury with very pleasing results.

We have been without the help of a superintendent since August, and his frequent visits and helpful suggestions have been greatly missed in the schools.

We wish the parents would make a greater effort to visit the school,—the place where their children spend half their waking hours. If they would help and encourage them and co-operate more fully with the teacher—never saying aught against her, better results would obtain.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY R. GILE,

JOHN B. YEATON,

GAWN E. GORRELL,
